Addressing environmental challenges by promoting quality and sustainability in planning and construction projects

Structure : Terragilis

Dijon | Burgundy-Franche-Comté

Founded in April 2021 with the support of the Bourgogne-Franche-Comté Energy Cluster and ADEME Bourgogne-Franche-Comté, TERRAGILIS is an interprofessional association dedicated to addressing the environmental challenges of our time by promoting quality and sustainability in regional development, new construction, and renovation projects.

It bases its actions on collective intelligence, collaborative work, and a holistic vision by promoting the sharing of expertise.

Its objective: To promote the quality of projects

- by taking a comprehensive and optimal approach to environmental, social, economic, and territorial issues, as well as their practical value
- by supporting stakeholders through fostering dialogue and collective learning

AREAS OF ACTION

Supporting construction professionals directly on their projects and helping them adopt quality initiatives

The primary objective of the association’s initiatives is to establish a framework that enables:

- supporting stakeholders in planning, construction, and renovation;
- to evaluate and advance projects;
- to highlight exemplary projects and best practices;
- to promote networking among the relevant stakeholders.
