The Maison Artesage association was founded in 2023 with the goal of creating a shared living space for independent seniors combined with a cultural and community “third place.”

The unique feature of the project led by Maison Artesage lies in its cultural and artistic scope. Indeed, with the third-place component, the idea is to create a true space for expression open to everyone to foster intergenerational connections around three themes: art and the transmission of skills, health and well-being, and living environments and biodiversity. This forms the core of the social life project for the future living space.

Our initiatives:

Shared

House The residents of the house live in independent apartments and share common spaces. They participate in a collective project with the residents of their community.

Garden

At the heart of Maison Artesage, the garden connects the shared house to the third place as an intimate space that is open to the outside world.

Third Place

A true space for artistic expression, it fosters intergenerational connections around three themes: art and the transmission of skills, health and well-being, and living organisms and biodiversity.

An annual program (performances, movement workshops, creative and repair workshops, lectures, etc.) will be co-created with the residents of the shared house, association members, and other community stakeholders. The third place aims to foster intergenerational connections and promote the physical and intellectual well-being of its visitors, centered on three themes: art & craftsmanship, biodiversity & the environment, and health & well-being.
