ECO DES PAS PERDUS

L'ÉCO DES PAS PERDUS is a nonprofit organization. Dedicated to social and environmental causes, the association has adopted a model that promotes the circular economy, short supply chains, and sustainable development to demonstrate that it is both possible and necessary to envision the future differently.

Founded in October 2020, L'ÉCO DES PAS PERDUS is a non-profit association serving social and environmental purposes, and a member of the RNRR (National Network of Resource and Recycling Centers) and the REFER (Ile-de-France Reuse Network).

The main activity of Réemploi Solidaire consists of collecting items that are no longer used, refurbishing them, and redistributing them in a store that promotes responsible, ethical, and inclusive consumption so that as many people as possible can benefit from them.

This revitalization takes place through participatory workshops, fostering connections and the sharing of skills.

The association is part of an initiative for social integration through economic activity. It creates jobs in the region and provides those facing social and/or professional difficulties with tailored support in a supportive environment.

Raising awareness about reuse is also one of our missions. Our goal is to help change behaviors by offering alternative consumption choices and more environmentally friendly practices to reduce waste production and improve recycling.
