A community garden that promotes environmental sustainability and biodiversity, along with a farm animal enclosure

Structure : THE FARM IS BEING DIVIDED

Young heifer | Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes

La Ferme Se Partage! aims to foster community bonds through an environmentally friendly community garden that supports biodiversity and a farm animal enclosure.

On an 8,500-square-meter plot, we come together for various gardening and DIY activities, as well as other social gatherings.

"La Ferme Se Partage!" is a nonprofit organization working to develop food-production sites and community gardens by widely adopting agroecological methods, fostering social connections and solidarity.
