OUR EFFORTS TO PROTECT THE OCEAN

A leader in ocean conservation for the past 10 years, our Foundation partners with those working to protect and save marine species and their ecosystems, combat marine pollution, support research, and educate and raise awareness among all audiences, particularly young people.

For 10 years, we have been raising awareness among citizens and public authorities, and mobilizing individual donors and corporate sponsors to accelerate ocean protection.

The Ocean Foundation contributes to the study and protection of the ocean. It supports numerous initiatives and also implements its own programs to protect marine biodiversity, combat marine pollution, support research, encourage innovation, and inform and raise awareness among all audiences, particularly young people.
