Third Place: A citizen-led initiative aimed at promoting an ecological and socially responsible transition in Salernes

Structure : Terra Verde

Difficulté : facile

Salernes

Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur

The goal of the third place: To foster a local dynamic that enables local residents to get involved in transforming their community.

Objectives:

- Raise awareness and train people on the challenges and skills needed for an environmental and solidarity-based transition; promote solidarity, community spirit, and harmonious coexistence

through the principles of permaculture

- Create and share human, technical, and logistical resources to foster the region's food, social, and climate resilience

- Promote solidarity, conviviality, and harmonious coexistence through the principles of permaculture and the commons

- Support the City Hall and local cultural actors by organizing inclusive and environmentally friendly events

Since Château Escoffier has been unoccupied for several decades, its necessary restoration is also the first collaborative project at the third place (a training site using local materials and techniques). It will begin in August 2021 and will be documented through ongoing coverage of the work with photo reports on the third place's website.

The values that unite us and define the identity of our project are: solidarity, the will to make things possible, equality, openness, and the common good.
