Cooperative for Training in Urban Environmental Professions

Structure : CFME-Urb

Difficulté : facile

We have chosen to develop our training activities as a cooperative because training is, above all, a human endeavor that begins with the individual and serves the collective. Being part of the social and solidarity economy is a way to do business differently and to contribute, through training, to regional transformation.

Our strengths:

- Pooling our expertise and combining our energies in the service of a project
- A specialized and experienced training organization
- A project grounded in respect for sustainable development

The cooperative has taken over the activities of CFME-eau: it thus ensures continuity in training programs based on over twenty years of expertise. This experience centers on Continuing Professional Development in the fields of:

- water resource management

- drinking water management, stormwater management

- public and private wastewater treatment

- swimming pool and recreational water treatment

To complement this expertise, we have brought on board a team specializing in:

- Eco-responsible management of green spaces

- waste and bio-waste prevention and management

- urban cleanliness, enabling us to offer you a comprehensive range of training programs in the field of urban environments.
