Build a connection with nature to reconnect with it and with oneself.

Structure : Budding Beech

Villefranche-sur-Saône Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes

Hêtre en Herbe is an organization dedicated to fostering a connection with nature, helping people reconnect with both nature and themselves.

Through permaculture, animal care, exploring biodiversity, artistic expression, and crafts, it fosters social connections and helps everyone thrive in an active, responsible, and enjoyable way.

OUR ACTIVITIES

Workshops at the Belleroche community garden: You'll get to explore nature and grow your own vegetables. Younger gardeners will find joy in discovering, touching, and smelling the mineral, plant, and animal worlds. Those with a keen eye for detail will enjoy sorting seeds or preparing seedlings. Everyone will participate in maintaining the garden to keep it beautiful and fertile. The variety of workshops ensures there's something for everyone.

Activities at the OASIS Farm: (526, route de Chantegrillet, 69400 Gleizé)
Come discover farm life by helping to create a vegetable garden and caring for the animals
. On the agenda: Accompanied by a nature guide, you'll first discover farm life and actively participate in the garden, then you'll care for the animals (cows, goats, pigs, feeding, births, reproduction...).

The farm is certified AB and Nature&Progrès and adheres to the principles of agroecology and permaculture.

Support for institutions: Medical-social facilities, schools, daycare centers, and nursing homes can contact us to organize nature activities and to help create vegetable gardens
